

Artichoke Printmaking

Artichoke is a high profile artists print studio based in South London, it is used by professional international print makers. The Set where tasked with re-energising the Artichoke identity, producing a new brand and colour pallet which has been implemented into all their stationery requirements. The Set also designed an e-commerce website which enables all the individual artists at Artichoke to showcase their work in an on-line gallery. The new identity and website have been a commercial success, both have contributed to raising the profile of Artichoke printmaking.
