

Fairley House School

Fairley House School is based in central London, the school specialises in children with specific learning difficulties (dyslexic and dyspraxia). The Set has worked extensively with the school over the past five years, and have been responsible for designing and implementing the new branding.

fairley
house
school